To Whom This May Concern:

Dr. May's appearance on my radio show, Wisdom To Go was a blessing and unqualified success. Dr. May possesses a rare enthusiasm and compassion for her work. She brought a fresh and thought provoking perspective on the important and timely topic of weight management. As a guest, she is credible, intriguing and gives an objectively great interview. The audience's interest and imagination were captivated and were tuned in for the entire duration of the show. I am confident that they will tune in again when she returns to share more of her 'body wisdom'.

With warmest heart!
